— WHAT IT IS

What this canvas does

A UX strategy is the bridge between a business goal expressed as a number and a design team expressed as a backlog. Without it, design work is judged on taste and delivered late.

— WHEN TO USE IT

- A new business goal has landed and design has been asked ‘what are you going to do about it?’
- The design team is busy but nobody can say what it is for.
- Before a redesign, a platform migration or a design-system investment that needs executive backing.

— BOX BY BOX

The short version

01 • BUSINESS GOAL

Write the goal with its number, its deadline and its owner. Write what happens if it is missed.

02 • WHO IS OUR USER?

Needs, challenges, pain points, and what they do today instead of the thing you want.

03 • UX STRATEGY

Write the clever how in one sentence, then brand it with a name the stakeholders will repeat.

04 • UX TACTICS

Brainstorm tactics, then pick the two to start on Monday. For each, name the metric and the date you will know.

— WHO IT IS FOR

Design leads, heads of product and anyone who has to explain what UX is going to do about a revenue number. 90 minutes with three to eight people.

05 • STAKEHOLDERS

List the decision makers, their priorities and what they are afraid of.

06 • INSIGHTS, LANDSCAPE AND ANALYTICS

Put the evidence on the board: analytics, research, competitor moves. Then write the one conclusion.

07 • GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Three to five principles, including at least one thing you will refuse to do.
